Transcripts for Ballet Black at 25

...All Towards Hope

Intro (text starts at 1.1sec)

Together we can move, together we can decide, together we can stand.
Lessons are Learned, troubles are overcome, when we aren't afraid to push back, push against what is causing our discomfort, our pain, our distress.
If we expect to create a difference and welcoming space for all of the many types of us, if we plan to create something which allows for change, we are the change and become better because of it.
If we move as one, if we all strive for a better day, moment, and thought, we can become better for wanting to be closer to hope.
Together we should move, together we should decide, together we should stand.
It is or rather can be hard to want to share anything, everything. But the fear of what they may say holds us, shreds courage.
Questions, doubts become loud, what we believe, no? Can cause backs to turn, walk, run away, they say.
Truth has many faces, reality relative, but false thoughts harden, what softens the depth of our heart's acceptance.
If we are moving as one, if we are all striving for a better day, moment and thought, we should become better for wanting to be closer to hope.
Together, we must move, together, we must decide, together, we must stand trials, test and teach us how to share, speak and communicate, to be understood.
Encouraging an exploration of what is not and is the same, what is not and is the same what is not and is the same all at once.
Pushing alone can make a difference, but the force of many, the desire to grow, the purpose we can all feel is what will align our hearts and minds for a better now, for more.
We must move as one, we must all strive for better day, moment and thought, we must become better and better will move us all towards hope.
Together we will move, together we will decide, together we will stand.
Decisions often made with clarity of thought are sustained.
Those choices bond and bring us together, but power and strength of community can be easily doubted without the foundation.
The answer who is right is always the question. So, who is right? The one who loves?
Who is right the one who helps?
Who is right the one who is willing to sacrifice for someone less fortunate than themselves? Who is right?
When we are moving as one, when we are all striving for a better day, moment and thought, we will become better for pushing towards hope.
We can hope, we should have hope, we will hope, we must move toward hope.

Ingoma

Translation of prayer from Xhosa:
Our Father, who art in Heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy Kingdom come;
thy will be done;
on Earth as it is in Heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us.
And lead us not into temptation;
but deliver us from evil.
For thine is the Kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever. Amen